The Private & Business Clients Graduate Programme

The job:

Independent acquiring and advising private and business clients in the branch business, specialist in a head office department, e.g. business development.

Contents (basic, 6 months):

Familiarisation with the branch or business area, definition of key tasks, seminar orientation days, specialist seminars on completion of basic training, personal impact seminar, preparation for specialist training.

Contents (specialist, 6 - 12 months):

Specialisation in the relevant key areas, additional project work, segment-specific client management, on-the-job training

Getting started:

Managing more than 12 million clients in over 1,000 branches throughout Germany is a big challenge for us. That's why we're looking for people who enjoy communicating. If you join us, we'll get you off to a good start. A welcome seminar will give you all the key facts on the way our bank is organised – from its structure to essential information for new recruits. You will meet other participants in the Graduate Programme from different areas of the bank, enabling you to start building your own network. In our Graduate Programme, you will learn all you need to know about this diverse business area. At the beginning of the programme you decide whether to specialise in product sales or Group Management at head office. We will be with you every step of the way and you will be able to attend specialist seminars and practical placements to broaden your expertise.

What happens next:

After the Graduate Programme you'll be looking after our private and business clients. You will have personal responsibility at your branch for providing them with comprehensive advice and thus ensuring their satisfaction. This position offers excellent career prospects. Or you can support business development at headquarters by developing project concepts or support sales by designing new products. You will have many opportunities to advance your career. Whether you are a specialist, project manager or business manager – we'll reward your commitment and encourage your upward progression within the bank.

What we expect from you:

You have a good degree in an economic discipline. You will ideally have a banking apprenticeship or acquired banking knowledge through various internships. You are a good communicator in German and English and have good people skills. You enjoy working on your own initiative and are a team player.
